SIGNANT HEALTH
THE EVIDENCE GENERATION COMPANY™

COMBINING TECHNOLOGY, DEEP THERAPEUTIC AREA EXPERTISE, AND ANALYTICS TO ADVANCE HEALTH OUTCOMES

SmartSignals transforms evidence generation by digitizing clinical trials from end to end and redefining how and where studies are conducted. Trusted by clinical researchers worldwide for more than 20 years, Signant's pioneering technology innovations are supported by global advisory teams of clinical science and medicine leaders, data analysts, regulatory experts, and clinical operations specialists who steer your study to success from launch to closeout.

SmartSignals connects sites, patients, and supplies in six functional areas to streamline data delivery and accelerate clinical development across traditional, virtual, and hybrid/decentralized trials.

PATIENT ENGAGEMENT

SmartSignals patient engagement solutions increase protocol compliance, reduce audit inspection issues, and keep study participants on track, informed, and more likely to complete a study.

eConsent — Choose from flexible deployment models to facilitate study comprehension and protocol compliance while building traceable audit trails with built-in document version control.

Patient Concierge — Deliver the right information, facilitate communication, and gather data with participant-focused technology.

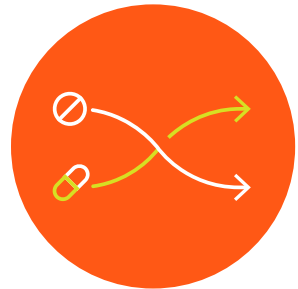

IP MANAGEMENT

Transform your supply chain management process from forecasting through distribution using SmartSignals' study- and enterprise-level supply optimization solutions. Leverage these solutions and in-house logistics expertise to maximize the productivity of your research and development investments.

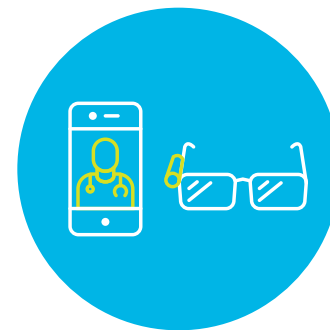

RTSM — Streamline randomization and study supply management with a quick-deploy, integration-friendly solution.

Supplies Management — Gain visibility into and control of the entire process of enterprise level supplies management with our cloud-based forecasting, planning, distribution, and reconciliation platform.

SITE ENABLEMENT

Our site enablement solutions use secure, live video to expedite site initiation and study startup activities as well as to connect patients to clinicians, enhancing safety, expanding your geographic reach, and reducing time and costs associated with site visits.

Telemedicine — Connect patients to clinicians remotely to reinforce safety endpoints and eliminate geographic or participant mobility challenges.

Virtual Monitoring — Start up studies in half the time and cost, and conduct multipoint video interviews

CLINICAL OUTCOME ASSESSMENTS

Our full spectrum of innovative clinical outcome assessment solutions and expert advisory services facilitate collection, analysis, and management of COA data from all reporting sources. Each system or service within our array of COA solutions can be used as on its own or bundled together for a more seamless digital study. Ensure your research investments generate data of the highest possible accuracy and reliability, regardless of how and where a study conducted.

DATA ANALYTICS

Clinical and data science converge to provide unique perspectives on your research data. Our clinician-defined algorithms and intuitive visualizations enable study teams to proactively safeguard data quality by addressing potential threats, predicting outcomes, and preventing recurring issues. Bundle with SmartSignals eCOA solutions to ensure data collected is the highest quality attainable so you can trust that analyses and decision-making will result in accurate conclusions.

SCIENTIFIC & CLINICAL CONSULTING

Have confidence that your studies deliver on primary and secondary endpoints with verifiable, accurate, and regulatory-compliant evidence. Our clinical research solutions are supported by Signant's in-house team of experienced scientific, regulatory, and operational experts who serve as active partners from launch to regulatory submission.
